12/2023

During my 4-week virtual internship, I worked on various projects including a stopwatch web app and a tic tac toe game. These projects were challenging and allowed me to apply my knowledge of front-end development to create interactive and user-friendly web applications.

- Gained hands on experience in coding and problem-solving, as well as understanding responsive design principles.
- Created a stopwatch web app with accurate timing functionality.
- Developed a tic tac toe game with an interactive user interface.
- Completed all assigned tasks within the given time frame of 4 weeks

PROJECTS

Personal Portfolio website

Developed a fully responsive personal portfolio website using HTML and CSS, featuring dedicated sections for profile summary, experience, projects, skills, and contact information. Ensured optimal user experience across diverse devices. Integrated a project showcase with live links and source code availability, allowing visitors to explore my work. Implemented a downloadable resume feature for easy access to my professional background.

Weather App

Developed a responsive web application using HTML, Bootstrap, and JavaScript to provide real-time weather data for any city. Implemented a user-friendly search feature for effortless location-based weather retrieval, displaying crucial information such as temperature, humidity, and wind speed. The application also features a seamless refresh functionality for up-to-date weather updates, showcasing proficiency in front-end technologies and a focus on user experience.
